Department of Public Safety
Post Office Box 1456
Atlanta, Georgia 30371-2303

Colonel Hugh Hardison
Commissioner

Governor Joe Frank Harris
Board of Public Safety
Members of the General Assembly
Citizens of Georgia

Please accept for your review, the 1984 Annual Report of the Georgia Department of Public Safety, an overview of the activities of this department during the last calendar year.

In 1984, the primary emphasis of the Department of Public Safety was on enforcement and implementation of the state's DUI law. In late 1983, a milestone was reached in cooperative traffic safety efforts when the new DUI law went into effect. Never before in the history of the state had all the concerned environs come together with such unity of purpose to do something constructive about drunk driving.

The Georgia State Patrol was proud to take the lead in this effort. In 1984, state troopers raised their total of DUI arrests by 18%, from 17,958 in 1983 to 21,215 in 1984. With the rise in arrests, convictions and suspensions also increased in 1984.

Aiding the state patrol in its efforts were two grants from Governor Joe Frank Harris. One grant of over $300,000 bought 760 alco-sensors, a roadside screening device to aid in detecting alcohol use. Another grant of over $422,000 increased our DUI enforcement efforts by funding extra duty pay for additional patrolling by troopers. We are grateful for this kind of support.

In 1984, traffic deaths rose slightly overall due to increases in travel. The number of registered vehicles and licensed drivers continues to increase at record rates as well.

The Department of Public Safety is grateful for the concern of our Governor and legislative officials in providing the money and staffing necessary to meet the challenges of the 80's. The support of the Governor, General Assembly and Board of Public Safety will be matched, effort for effort, by every member of this department as we try to serve well the citizens of Georgia.

Respectfully,

Hugh Hardison

Hugh Hardison, Colonel
Commissioner

STATE OF GEORGIA

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

ATLANTA 30334

Joe Frank Harris
GOVERNOR

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE GEORGIA DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY:

The efforts by you and your fellow officers in 1984 to enforce Georgia's drunk driving laws are commendable. Last year, your arrest numbers for DUI totaled 21,215, an increase of 18 percent over 1983. This diligence, coupled with public awareness efforts, is to be credited with the great strides the state has made in recent years in combating the DUI problem.

Despite these efforts, DUI still remains the number one highway safety problem, as attested by the reports almost daily of someone dying because of a drunk driver. We must continue our untiring enforcement efforts.

It is also heartening to know of the strides the Department of Public Safety made in 1984 in training, equipment and furthering your professionalism. The Harris Administration is proud to have been a part of providing the funds to help in these areas.

You are facing new challenges in your position as the travel, vehicles and population continue to increase to record levels in Georgia, but I pledge that we will work closely with you to help insure the highest degree of public safety for the citizens of Georgia. You should be proud of your record of service and accomplishments, and I salute you.

With kindest regards, I remain

Sincerely,

Joe Frank Harris

1984 HIGHLIGHTS

Traffic deaths in Georgia in 1984 increased from 1296 in 1983 to 1410, a percentage increase of 8.8. At the same time, annual miles of travel in the state were also increasing by 5.5 percent to 45 billion. The increased miles traveled are a direct result of continuing improvements in the economy of the country and particularly in the southeast. The numbers of vehicles on Georgia roads and numbers of licensed drivers are increasing at a rate of approximately 100,000 per year.

Injuries increased in 1984 from 65,470 in 1983 to 75,883 in 1984. Accidents increased from 169,000 in 1983 to 192,500 reported in 1984, again reflecting the increase in travel and vehicles on the roadway.

The Georgia State Patrol's primary efforts in 1984 centered around improved enforcement of the State's DUI laws. In 1983 the state's new DUI law became effective providing substantially increased penalties for drunk driving. With a hightened public awareness about the problem of drunk driving, the State Patrol undertook a massive enforcement drive. Patrol arrests for DUI increased in 1984 from 17,000 to 21,000, an 18% increase.

As part of that increased enforcement effort, the Department was awarded a $250,000 grant from the emergency funds of the Governor for the purchase of 750 alco-sensors, a battery operated roadside screening device to test for potential alcohol use. The digital readout sensors made marginal cases a thing of the past and greatly increased the State Patrol's capabilities to detect and further test potential drunk drivers.

Also in 1984 the Patrol was awarded a $422,000 federal grant from the U.S. Department of Transportation to conduct a combined DUI and speed enforcement campaign. The effort was conducted at selected sites throughout the state where statistics indicated a combination high incidence of drunk driving and speeding. The campaign, known as "Fast Lane Blues" was highly successful leaving Georgia with the distinction of having the fourth best record of 55 mph speed compliance in the nation. According to the U.S. Department of Transportation only 35% of the motoring public in Georgia consistently exceed the 55 mph speed limit when the state's 100 thousand mile road system is considered as a whole. "Fast Lane Blues" is being carried on as part of a regular patrol campaign in the metro Atlanta area in 1985.

The Department of Public Safety continued to implement a 1983 law which is expected to have a considerably positive effect on attitudes of young people toward drinking and driving. The Alcohol and Drug Awareness Program is now being jointly taught by the State Patrol and Education Department to all young people in Georgia who expect to get their drivers licenses before age 18. In 1984, 120,000 15 year olds were certified as completing the four hour course. The State Patrol is making special classes available for those students who may have missed the classes in their regular school curriculum. The long range effect of the Alcohol and Drug Awareness classes won't be known for several years but it is expected that a much more enlightened young driver is being prepared for the future; drivers who are better equipped to deal with alcohol and its detrimental effects on driving.

The Department of Public Safety also began enforcing the new child restraint law in July of 1984. In the first year under the requirement to restrain children under age 4, deaths fell from 28 to 10 and it was estimated that 75% of the driving public was complying by purchasing the restraints. It is not believed, however, that actual use of the restraints is much more than 20%. It is felt that additional legislation may be considered to help better enforce the child restraint law. Public education has been very positive on the value of child restraints. In 1984 the State Patrol made some 100 cases and issued more than 10,000 written and verbal warnings regarding the new child restraint law.

Overall enforcement activity by the Georgia State Patrol in 1984 reached record numbers. Total moving hazardous arrests were 296,000 up from 250,000 in 1983. Speeding arrests totaled 246,000 in 1984 up from 208,000 in 1983. Arrests and warnings to truckers totaled 17,000 in 1984 compared to 16,000 in 1983. DUI arrests were 21,500 in 1984 compared to 17,900 in 1983. Total patrol miles in 1984 topped 22 million compared to 20 million 800 thousand in 1983.

The overall aim of the Administration of the Department of Public Safety is to create as much visibility as a deterrent to traffic violations as possible and to be as efficient as possible. Significant progress is being made in this area. In the future, the Department will continue this quest at the same time realizing that travel, population, vehicle registration, and economic growth demands a continuing improvement in the traffic safety capabilities of the Department. A close working relationship is essential with the Governor, members of the General Assembly and the Board of Public Safety who have the ultimate responsibility for the funding and guidance necessary to insure a high degree of public safety for the citizens of Georgia.

This was an increase of 15,185 inspections over the previous year. Gasoline burning vehicles weighing under 6,000 pounds and not older than ten years are inspected. SPEARS

Selective Patrol Enforcment and Accident Reduction Squad (SPEARS), a specialized traffic enforcement unit is composed of seven members. The primary function of this squad is to reduce serious accidents within the four county metro area. In doing so, the emphasis has been placed upon the problem areas identified by local agencies in Cobb, DeKalb, Fulton and Clayton Counties. Operating as a small task force during the early morning hours, this unit has assisted local law enforcement agencies in decreasing the number of DUI related fatalities experienced within this area.

A training class was conducted in every troop in the state for the purpose of training troopers in the proper use of the alco sensor. During these classes, 620 uniformed personnel were trained. This training has proven to be one of the most successful efforts in combating the drinking drivers on the state's highways.

SCHOOL BUS SAFETY UNIT

Six thousand school bus drivers drove thru the roadeo course. Of these 6000 the winners went on to compete in the 9 district roadeos.

District winners advanced to the state roadeo, which was held in Columbus, Ga. in June of 1984. From the 73 drivers who competed in the state roadeo, James Crowley from DeKalb County was the winner in the conventional class and Cecil Weaver from Appling County was second.

The transit class was won by Robert Black from Decatur County, with Theda Lee from Gwinnett Co. coming in second.

Georgia drivers participated in the national roadeo in Anchorage, Alaska, finishing 4th, 7th and 13th.

The Property Unit assisted the Governor's Office of Highway Safety in taking a physical inventory and in reconciling their records of same.

As requested, the Property Unit has provided assistance and information for the writing of new policy statements regarding property matters.

Records Management

The purpose of the Records Managment Unit is to apply management techniques to the creation, utilization maintenance, retention, preservation and disposal of records undertaken to reduce costs and improve efficiency of the record keeping process. Records Management includes management of filing and microfilming equipment and supplies; filing and information retrieval systems; files, correspondence, reports and forms management; historical documentations; micrographics, retention programing and vital records protection. The Records Management Office also coordinates printing services for the Department.
